

INDUSTRY PARTNERS

Urban Land Institute

The mission of the Urban Land Institute new window is to provide leadership in the responsible use of land and in creating and sustaining thriving communities worldwide. ULI provides opportunities for MRED students to participate in various seminars, industry roundtables and various leadership forums.

International Council of Shopping Centers

Through its alignment with the local ICSC – International Council of Shopping Centers helps members develop their businesses through networking, education, research, information, deal-making and action on legislation and regulation.

NAIOP AZ Chapter

Through its alignment with the local NAIOP chapter, ASU’s Masters of Real Estate Development (MRED) program is the first in the nation designated as a NAIOP University Member, complementing our strong level of industry support and connectivity.

Our partnership with NAIOP ensures that MRED students have access beyond the classroom to some of the best minds – and some of the most forward-thinking ideas – in the real estate industry.

AZCREW

AZCREW and the CREW Network advances the achievements of women in the commercial real estate industry, and promotes the success of MRED students and alumni. During the past several years, numerous MRED students have been awarded AZCREW scholarships to pursue their education in the real estate field.

AZCREW announces the latest MRED recipients annually every October.

Valley Forward

A long-time supporter of the ASU MRED program, Valley Forward new window is a non-profit organization that dedicates its resources to enhancing environmental sustainability in Arizona. Its efforts provide our students with examples of real estate projects to study and analyze.

Valley Partnership

Valley Partnership presents a balanced, pro-development perspective and the Valley’s best industry education and networking opportunities.
