MBA/MASTER OF LEGAL STUDIES CONCURRENT DEGREE

Earn two degrees in less time. The Online MBA/Master of Legal Studies (MBA/MLS) concurrent degree is delivered by ASU's W. P. Carey School of Business and the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, and prepares you for where business and law intersect.

Coursework

- A total of 63 hours are required for completion of the MBA/MLS concurrent degree
- Both degrees can be earned 100% online to fit within your schedule
- During the first three semesters, you take only business classes
- During the fourth semester, you will take business classes plus two law courses
- One law course is required in the first summer of the program
- During the final semester, you will take only law courses

Special Application and Program Notes

- You must complete application requirements for both programs. You should select the concurrent degree when applying.
- Although the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law and the W. P. Carey School of Business will make independent admissions decisions, each application will invite you to indicate that you have applied, or have been admitted, to the other program.
- GMAT or GRE scores must be submitted to satisfy admission requirements to the Online MBA program.
- Master of Legal Studies applications do not require GMAT, LSAT, or GRE scores, but may require additional supplemental items.
- Official transcripts and letters of recommendation must be sent to ASU's Office of Graduate Education. Each program may have different requirements regarding supplemental documents.

Each program maintains separate deadlines. You must be admitted to both programs and each school's office of admissions will render independent decisions.
